In 1998, the agency assisted a record number of homeless families to find work and permanent housing. Families may include one or both parents and male and female children. IHNGC is an innovative approach to caring for homeless families because it utilizes Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish congregations and their volunteers and established resources. The shelter provides approximately 7,700 shelter nights and 22,000 meals because of the generosity of 72 congregations and 900 volunteers. Services include emergency shelter and meals, social services, housing assistance, employment and schooling assistance, and after care.		Total Other Funding	$ 0

The buildings are owned by New Life Temple Community Urban Redevelopment Corporation and consist of five storefronts. The funds will only be used to prepare first floor commercial use. The project is expected to create 8,000 square feet of retail space. Phase 1 activities will include conducting necessary environmental studies, and preparing design and bid documents for proposed redevelopment. The project is expected to create new jobs. Phase 2 is estimated to cost $xx and will begin in 2001. The project holds a very strategic location within the Madisonville NBD and is needed to help revitalize and encourage other redevelopment projects. New Life is proposing to hold lease rates below market to foster the growth of new small businesses.		Total Other Funding	$ 0

The program provides free architectural services and low interest loans to property owners in the 1100-1700 blocks of Vine Street, OTR for the renovation of their facades. The City loan is used for the renovation of the upper floors residential portion of the building. If the building owner renovates the first floor commercial portion of the façade at their private expense, the City loan is converted to a grant. Firststar Bank has agreed to partner with the City to provide loans to the building owners for the commercial façade renovations. City funding leverages substantial private investment. 	The Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) (a program of the Citizen's Committee on Youth) provides year-round employment opportunities for about 144 at-risk youth between the ages of 14 to 21 who are residents of the City of Cincinnati. They are referred for consideration in this program from community-based organizations, schools, and the courts. The Citizens' Committee on Youth (CCY) operates this program. The YCC provides to youth the necessary skills for successful long-term employment and for the pursuit of their education through mentoring and counseling. About 85% of participants are expected to advance to the next grade and remain in school. To meet these objectives, an integrated, holistic program of training will develop job readiness/pre-employment skills, job retention skills, life skills, and education and career planning.
